CAR PLOUGHS INTO FRONT OF COTTAGE

A WOMAN watching television in the front room of her home had a lucky escape when a car careered off the road and smashed into the house.

Jean Gifford (63) was sitting in her living room at about 11pm on Monday night when the Subaru Legacy ploughed through a wall and into the front of the cottage in Foster Street, Harlow, where she lives with husband Allan.

By LOUISE SASSOON, News Editor
sassooni@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The front porch of the property was badly damaged as the car came to a halt just a few inches short of the living room wall.

The driver of the vehicle escaped serious injury and fled the scene, leaving the stunned couple to survey the damage.

"As it hit I saw sparks and smoke," said Mrs Gifford. "At first I thought it was a plane because the bang was so loud."

"I was shocked and didn't know what to think. I daren't go out there so I got up and called an ambulance but by then the person in the car had legged it."

The accident has led to fresh calls for tougher speeding restrictions along what has become a notorious rat-run for drivers

Although it is unclear if the car was speeding at the time, Mrs Gifford said she and her neighbours are fed up with vehicles travelling at speeds of up to 80mph along the road.

"We can't go on living like this," she added.

Council steps in to help charities struggling with town's cat crisis

FLASHBACK: Last week's Star

WARNINGS the cat population of Harlow is out of control have prompted a swift response from council chiefs who have agreed to work with animal welfare officials to solve the problem. Council tenants could soon be provided with information and advice on cat neutering and possibly be offered financial help to spay female cats.

Last week the Star revealed the number of cats in the town is at its highest ever, leaving animal charities struggling to cope with abandoned pets.

Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the council's housing committee, said: "Homes being overrun by cats can cause the council problems and nuisance to people living in the area.

"If we take back a council property where a large number of cats have lived, it can cost us hundreds of pounds in clear up costs and pest control for dealing with fleas.

"It is in our interests to ensure that cats are well cared for and controlled and we will be working with the RSPCA to help owners with this."

Kiddie porn pervert hid from authorities

A SEX offender who went to ground for five years after being released from jail has been sent back to prison for failing to report where he was living.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that Edward McLean, of Church End, Harlow, was ordered to sign the sex offenders' register after an "appalling" collection of child pornography was found on his computer.

He was jailed but released after serving half his sentence. Then, in January 2004, he left Harlow without telling police where he was going.

Michael Fraser, prosecuting, told the court McLean lived rough in London before spending several months in Hemel Hempstead and then moving to Scotland in the summer of 2004.

Police made extensive inquiries, checking his National Insurance details, state benefits, financial, travel and medical records but all to no avail.

"He effectively disappeared from the radar," said Mr Fraser. "He has been unregistered for five and a half years."

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Officers eventually traced McLean's mother through his birth certificate and she contacted him. On June 29 this year McLean handed himself in to police in Lanark, Scotland, where he had been living.

McLean, who admitted failing to comply with the notification requirements, was immediately recalled to serve the rest of his sentence. He will not be released until December 2011.

Neil Fitzgibbon, representing McLean, said in mitigation that the reason why he failed to notify his change of address to the authorities was because it brought back memories of what he had done.

"Ostrich and sand come to mind," said Mr Fitzgibbon, who added that the defendant had not reoffended since his release from prison.

Judge David Turner told McLean he had ignored his obligation to tell the authorities of his whereabouts, adding that the sex offenders' register was there to protect the public.

The judge imposed a further nine month sentence but ordered that it should run at the same time as his current term.

Card shop well stocked for the Christmas rush

CHRISTMAS has come VERY early in Harlow after a greetings card store launched its festive range - five months before the big day.

Card Factory, in the Harvey Centre, unveiled a selection of Christmas cards and gift wrap to shoppers, even though many people have yet to go on their summer holiday.

Branch manager Sue Wootton said there was a demand for the cards and gift wrap. "Lots of our customers like to spread the cost of Christmas so we make sure we launch our ranges in plenty of time," she said.

"They seem to be going down very well with customers and the staff are enjoying getting into the Christmas mood."

But not all shoppers were so enthusiastic. "They say Christmas seems to come earlier every year, but this is just ridiculous," said Abigail Jackson (23), of Newstead Way, Harlow. "The kids are still off school and there are still people enjoying their summer holidays."

"My neighbours were absolutely shocked and one lady I was speaking to said she is petrified about her children going outside because of the speed of the cars.

"There has been a petition going on for years to get speed restrictions along here but nothing has been done. One day somebody will be killed."

Harlow's prospective Tory MP Robert Halfon said he supported calls for safety measures, adding: "The residents have had to wait far too long for something to be done about this."

The car was towed away by police who are due to carry out forensic tests in an attempt to identify the driver.

Alp adventurers aim for the top!

A COMPANY director will be swapping his business suit for mountain gear when he sets out to conquer western Europe's highest mountain.

James Berger (35), will be leaving his office job behind next month when he and his father, Dave, tackle the 15,871ft-high Mont Blanc in the French Alps to raise money for St Clare Hospice. Mr Berger, pictured right, of Mark Hall Moors, Harlow, said: "The climb is a birthday present for my father who will be 60 in November. "It is something we can do together. I then thought as I booked it I may as well help a good cause and raise some money for charity.

"Obviously there are hundreds of charities to choose from but I wanted to do it for St Clare Hospice because it is a local charity and is well respected throughout the town."

It has taken the pair a gruelling six months of training to prepare them for the challenge of climbing the mountain.

Mr Berger's company, Net-Com 92 Ltd, has paid out £5,000 sponsorship but he is hoping to raise an additional £1,000 for the cause through donations from family and friends.

He conquered Ben Nevis earlier this year but said his new adventure will be even more exciting.

"I am really looking forward to it. It will be a big challenge for me but it should be good. It has certainly been hard work!"

Anyone wanting to sponsor Mr Berger can contact him on 07968 333975 or make a pledge on his website at www.justgiving.com/james-berger.

Mike calls time on NHS career

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital pathology manager Michael Horley is retiring from the NHS to pursue his passion for the finer things in life.

Mr Horley, pictured above, joined the NHS in 1965 and was appointed to the PAH Trust in 1996 as a project manager to implement a computer system. He took up the reins of pathology operational manager in 1998 and then pathology manager in 2000.

Rob Duncombe, associate director for cancer and core services, said: "It has been a pleasure working with Mike over the past few years. He has been an inspiration to many and one of the major drivers behind improvements within pathology.

"He will be sadly missed and we all wish him well for the future."

Mr Horley, an avid golfer and a keen wine connoisseur, is now looking to start a small wine business.

League buys ward hoists

MEMBERS of the League of Friends of St Margaret's and Community have been given a big thank you for providing the money needed to buy electric hoists for Beech Ward at the hospital's Epping Forest Unit.

The group donated about £100,000 to enable the purchase of the electric hoists and tracking used in all the single rooms, bed bays and bathrooms.

Friends' chairwoman Mary Isaacs said: "We wouldn't have been able to meet the cost of supplying the hoist equipment without an unexpected, most generous legacy to the League from an unknown donor.

"Suddenly we were able to meet the hospital's request and now we are delighted to have seen the equipment in operation."

For more information on how to become a Friend or to donate to the work of the League, call (01992) 572979 or (01992) 572863.

Fire open day

HARLOW fire station hosts its annual open day on Saturday, giving visitors the chance to learn about the role of a firefighter, watch demonstrations and ride in a fire engine.

Firefighters will also be in the town centre from 10am-3pm tomorrow (Friday) to offer advice on road safety and the importance of fitting smoke alarms.

Hospital team set sights on summit of Snowdon

MEMBERS of the estates team at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital will be climbing Mount Snowdon next month to raise money for breast cancer.

The group is raising cash for the Epping Breast Unit and St Clare Hospice.

The arduous seven-hour climb, scheduled to take place next month, is one of their most challenging projects to date.

George Huggins, PAH maintenance assistant who proposed the climb, said: "Each month we nominate a social activity to do. I thought that climbing Snowdon would be more challenging than a round of golf."

Colleague Colin Bolt added: "We felt that if we were going to do this we might as well raise money for charity at the same time. It is reassuring to know that others will be benefiting too."

Many of the team have known someone who has been affected by breast cancer, so the money will be split equally between the two local causes.

Ashraf Patel, associate specialist, who leads the Epping Breast Unit Charity, said: "It is great that the group is raising money for local breast care in such a unique way. The donation will be put towards improving the care and treatment we provide."

Council uses 'spy' powers during five investigations

HARLOW Council carried out covert surveillance operations five times last year.

Officers were authorised to carry out observations as part of investigations into persistent graffiti, regular fly-tipping in a residential area, drug dealing and two neighbour disputes.

One request to investigate fly-tipping was abandoned half-way through because it was found to be taking place on private land.

The figures were released to the Star following reports that some councils have been abusing the Regulation of Investigatory Powers Act which was brought in nine years ago for preventing or detecting crime and disorder, public safety and protecting public health.

Simon Carter, chairman of Harlow Council's policy and resources committee, said:

"We use these powers sparingly for covert surveillance and only when there is public support to tackle a particular issue."

"The council has a policy for using surveillance and this was approved by the Surveillance Commissioner following a routine inspection in 2008. The inspection found that our processes and application of the act comply with RIPA which requires councils to have in place procedures which ensure that where required, surveillance is seen as necessary, proportionate and is properly authorised."

He added: "Most surveillance carried out by council officers is open and not hidden or secretive and therefore doesn't require prior authorisation under the act."

Firefighters on brink of industrial action

Learning how to save lives

LIFESAVING skills were put to the test when young adults were taught first aid as part of a national safety campaign.

A group of volunteers from the Red Cross went to Occasio House, in Playhouse Square, Harlow, on Tuesday to teach the residents how to treat injured people using simple roadside techniques.

They were put through their paces in a number of scenarios which included how to deal with somebody who has been involved in a road traffic accident.

It was one of a number of workshops being held across the country as part of the Help A Mate Campaign organised in conjunction with Toyota to give 12-18 year-olds the skills, confidence and encouragement to save lives.

FIREFIGHTERS in Harlow will start industrial action next week in protest at plans to make cuts to frontline staff and services unless last-ditch talks to avert the disruption succeed.

Leaders of the Fire Brigades Union were meeting representatives of the Essex County Fire & Rescue Service yesterday afternoon (Wednesday) as the Star went to press.

However, an earlier attempt to resolve the argument on Thursday collapsed after just 45 minutes.

Although a full-scale strike is not on the cards, staff will refuse to work overtime, cover absences of more senior ranks or work on their days off until the dispute between the Fire Brigades Union and Essex County Fire & Rescue Service management is settled.

The row stems from the cash-strapped authority's need to make efficiency savings in the wake of the recession, which could see one in 10 frontline station-based firefighters lose their jobs.

But the union claims the service should look at making cutbacks elsewhere, arguing that a proposed £5m

By CHRIS MOSS

moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

upgrade to the ECFRS computer system would be better spent on retaining frontline crews.

Speaking before yesterday's talks, Essex FBU chairman Keith Flynn said: "We had hoped to resolve the dispute by now but the fire authority keep finding excuses to avoid negotiating and have thus far refused our offer of a joint review that might reach an agreement."

"If the money can be found to fund a multi-million pound increase in the IT budget then it must be found to pay for the 999 service."

But Chief Fire Officer David Johnson laid the blame for the stalemate squarely on the FBU, which he accused of "immature behaviour".

"We are fed up with this, our workforce is fed up with this and I just wish the FBU would invest as much effort in resolving this matter as they do talking to the press," he said.

"We are happy to talk to the FBU about their concerns at any time but for us it will remain very much business as usual."

"I would like to re-assure the public that they will continue to get the high level of service we, and our crews, are proud to provide to them."

CD volunteers were ready to cope in a crisis

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THINK of Harlow as it is today and the last thing you would conjure up is an image of it ever needing a well-oiled Civil Defence programme.

But Rob Harknett has written in with memories of the time he was a member of the CD rescue platoon which served Harlow back in the 1960s.

Regular readers of this page will remember the article a few weeks ago about the town's team of three fully trained rescue workers and 36 Civil Defence volunteers.

A bomb shelter was situated below the Town Hall and the team was equipped with sandbags, stirrup pumps, steel helmets and bandages in case they were called on to deal with a mass emergency.

Mr Harknett writes: "Our HQ was

Harlow in the front line of Civil Defence

FLASHBACK: Star, August 6

at what is now the council social club. Weekly training sessions were held plus exercises at Danbury Park where there was a simulated bombed-out site.

"Equipment was stored at the HQ and we also had a rescue lorry which was fully equipped. Tim Johnson was our training instructor and we used to put on displays at the Town Show.

"Towards the end of the era we all resigned due to some problems with Town Hall officials. Most of us joined up with the Auxiliary Fire Service at Harlow fire station which at the time had only two members.

"We had a Green Goddess at the fire station where training was given, plus we went to various centres for practical training. Both of the mentioned sections were also trained in first aid to Home Office standards by Red Cross instructors. Written and practical exams were sat at a centre in Chigwell where I passed my silver star and gold star in rescue, plus gold in first aid.

"I also passed out as a fireman just before Civil Defence was disbanded and still have the uniform."

Thank you for your memories Mr Harknett. If any other readers have memories of the town's Civil Defence, then please let us know by writing to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or emailing sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

Nostalgia update

READER Michael Armsworth has written in with the names of Cossor colleagues pictured in the above photograph which has been featured on this page several times.

"I am still working at Cossor, now Raytheon, and after 44 years have worked with many of the people in the photograph," he writes.

MYSTERY OVER CLOSURE OF PLAYHOUSE CLUB

Mystery surrounds the sudden demise of the highly popular morning theatre show The Playhouse introduced five years ago. Harlow's Playhouse Club stopped suddenly in May and, despite reassurances, it is yet to be reinstated.

HOT WEATHER KILLS HUNDREDS OF FISH

The recent hot weather and heavy storms has killed 500 fish in the River Stort where it runs through Harlow. It is thought mud blocked drainage holes and stopped oxygen getting into the water.

MORE CAR THEFTS

HARLOW suffered another spate of car thefts over the weekend with more than £6,000 worth of vehicles being stolen.

Security codes help to thwart bicycle thieves

CYCLISTS were given a helping hand from the long arm of the law to protect their prized possessions.

Bike owners were given the opportunity to have their bicycles security coded as part of an operation to crack down on thefts in the town. Police officers were at Bush Fair and Great Parndon over the weekend offering the free service which was also extended to residents wishing to have their personal property security marked.

Empty shops cash 'won't go very far'

A CASH grant to make use of empty shops and inject new life into the town centre has received a lukewarm response.

Harlow Council has been handed just over £50,000 by the Government to open up empty premises as part of a £3m investment package for town centres up and down the country.

The money is intended to be spent preparing shops for other uses including meeting places, learning centres or showrooms for local artists, as well as supporting events such as street markets or festivals.

But council leader Andrew Johnson said this week the money is not nearly enough.

"Although we always appreciate extra investment, this isn't really a huge cash boost for the town at this time," he said.

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassooni@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"However, it could help expand some of the initiatives we already have in place to boost business in the town centre.

"Once we have full details of this scheme we will consider how best to use the money and we look forward to continue working with partners to help the town centre through the current recession."

Conservative Parliamentary hopeful Robert Halfon echoed Mr Johnson's comments. "Any injection of cash into Harlow must be welcomed but given that Harlow has more than one area of shops, £52,000 is not going to stretch very far," he told the Star.

Shop fronts in the town centre have already been transformed as part of Harlow Renaissance's window works project in which works of art are displayed in empty units. Harlow MP Bill Rammell said the grant could be used on similar schemes throughout the town.

"Boarded-up shops can undermine business confidence but opening them up for other uses makes sense and thriving businesses often spring from these opportunities," he added.

The grant is part of a wider package of Government support for town centres which included the launch of a practical guide to help high street retailers combat the recession and measures to support businesses and town centres.

The announcement comes a week after the Government gave £40,000 to help support Harlow's struggling businesses.

County must modernise or cut services warns leader

A GRIM warning over the state of public finances has been sounded by Essex County Council.

County Hall chiefs said if they do not take action now, the council could face a budget gap in the region of £50m in 2010/11, rising to around £300m in 2013/14.

It is looking at every part of its operation to reduce bureaucracy and back office processes in order to divert resources to frontline services.

But it also said it is on target to meet the £200m it has pledged to save over the next three years.

Council leader Lord Hanningfield said: "These forecasts need to act as a wake-up call to the entire public sector. Doing nothing is not an option. We must change and modernise if key public services are not to be reduced or simply cut altogether.

"We are fortunate in Essex that we have identified the need for change and are embarked on a major programme of modernisation to continue to provide the very best services for residents."

Regen scheme for town centre 'too sweeping'

PLANS to regenerate the neglected northern end of Harlow town centre have come under fire from a group set up to protect the town's heritage.

Harlow Civic Society said the proposals did little to address the so-called "concrete collar" which isolates the town centre from surrounding neighbourhoods.

It has also expressed disappointment at the proposed loss of landmark buildings and public spaces.

Referring to developer Stockland's desire to transform the town centre into a regional shopping centre comparable to Lakeside, the civic society claims the town does not have adequate infrastructure in place to support such a radical overhaul.

However, it praises some aspects of the project, most notably the inclusion of additional residential accommodation in the town centre and proposals to plant trees and greenery to enhance the environment.

A statement released by the group this week stated: "We believe the present proposals are too sweeping and more of the existing buildings and features should be retained.

"Much has been written in recent years about the fact that all town centres and high streets are alike. Removing landmark buildings and public spaces from Harlow town centre will only continue this unfortunate trend and is to be deplored and resisted."

Alternative suggestions put forward by the society include the creation of a new and improved route from the town centre to the Town Park and train station, the retention of architecturally significant buildings such as the Advice Centre, Harlow Playhouse and Harlow Library, and the removal of fixed market stalls from Market Square to create a public open space on non-market days.

Public consultation on the plans comes to an end tomorrow (Friday).

Tories giving voters what they wanted

SIR, Former Labour councillor Mike Danvers finds it easy to throw a few numbers together to try to build an argument now he no longer bears responsibility, but he misses out essential facts (Letters, August 6).

Because writing off the debts he complains about has to follow a long process, they mostly originate from 2003/4 when the Conservatives were in opposition and his party controlled the council.

Business rates account for the bulk of the write-offs, a mix of old debts and few big sums where companies have folded due to the recession. This is a result of the Labour Government's mishandling of the economy.

Because the council is the tax collector for a number of public services including business rates for the Government, the actual loss to the Harlow taxpayer is only around £10,000, reflecting our success in collecting over 99 per cent of council tax and business rates.

I'm glad Mr Danvers highlights the cost of waste collection. The alternative proposed by his group – of doing away with the new waste contract – would actually cost an extra £60,000 every month in landfill taxes. And if he had read the report of consultants, he would have seen the cost has halved under Conservatives and is now down to its lowest level.

Reviewing the consultation undertaken in 2004 on what services the council provides, it would appear this Conservative administration is doing what people wanted their council to do. Perhaps that is why they voted for us.

Councillor Simon Carter

Happy memories of a much better time

SIR, I recommend everyone to view the black and white photos of Harlow past that are on display on the top floor of the Harvey Centre and then have a look at the town of today and see what 40 years of mismanagement can do.

I was born in Harlow and to date have lived nowhere else. These photos bring back so many memories of a town in which the parks and green areas were tended by gardeners and not grassed over for easy maintenance, of shopping areas that had shops that were open and not row after row of empty shops.

It is lovely to see in the photos how clean the town centre looked without it being adorned with what seems to be a permanent display of McDonalds paraphernalia blowing around shoppers' feet. How strange it is not to see the citizens of Harlow out shopping without the obligatory pit bull terrier that seems to be tethered to every other person in the town, merrily dropping its contributions in the paths of the unsuspecting passers-by.

And do my eyes deceive me? Is that a full and busy market place? And how great to see the Odeon cinema which now stands derelict as a tool used in the pointless battle between the selfish and egotistical businessmen and the overpaid and underachieving heads of Harlow Council.

Taped newspaper is 30 next month

SIR, The Harlow Talking Newspaper for the blind and partially sighted will be celebrating its 30th anniversary of producing local news on tape this September.

As chairperson, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all those volunteers who have given their time and energy so freely over the years to make it possible. I have been able to contact our current volunteers personally to convey this appreciation but hope that those who have retired from volunteering will read this and know they have not been forgotten.

We will be celebrating with our long serving volunteers and VIPs at the Gibberd Garden on the afternoon of Saturday, September 12 and would love to see and hear some of our retired volunteers at this lovely venue.

The normal entry time is 2pm and charges will apply, but we will be pleased to share our celebration cake with them.

Car park notice a sign of confusion

SIR, I have been watching the great car park confusion that Harlow Council has inflicted, along with pay and display tickets, on the good people of Harlow.

I say confusion, for drivers arriving at The Stow car park are greeted with the words "Up to one hour free" printed on the pay and display notice board. You can watch the motorist reading

I will fulfil my role as a local councillor

SIR, If mud-slinging were an Olympic sport, councillors Lee Dangerfield and Tony Hall would both at the very least be in with a shout for a medal in 2012.

Surely the energy they've both devoted to such venomous and unwarranted abuse of me for choosing to complete my term of office as a Harlow councillor could be better spent working for their constituents and for the wellbeing of the town?

Unlike former Church Langley councillor Samantha Warren, whose disappearance from the council shortly after her election in 2006 and well before her resignation was an open secret across all parties, I've decided to complete the term of office as councillor to which I was elected.

I've continued to take up local issues on behalf of my constituents, held my regular surgery last week and will continue to fulfil the role of local councillor working closely with my colleague John Strachan, who is already proving an effective voice for Staple Tye. I plan to attend my full council and committee meetings unless double-booked by the obligations of my paid employment.

I will also continue to devote my energies as a councillor to representing the interests of local residents in the face of the Conservative council's abject record of tax rises, increased charges and service cuts, all rewarded by inflation-busting pay rises for senior council officers.

Finally, for the record, I bought a piano (as is my right) at midday on the day of the Berecroft fire - hours before the fire occurred. My first thought on the outbreak of the Berecroft fire was not 'I must update my status on Twitter'. Clearly the world of Harlow Conservatives operates according to rather more bizarre priorities.

Councillor Lorna Spenceley

Years of service

SIR, The Conservatives are assuming that councillor Lorna Spenceley, following a move to a new home, will not carry out her duties. Without any evidence they attack her, saying she cannot do the job properly. Why?

She is not in prison, she has not moved to the Isle of Man and she is a fairly short car ride away from our town. Yet somehow the Conservatives suddenly feel they can speak out. Why?

Is it simply that Lorna is not a Conservative and they have never liked her?

With service that spans decades to the ward she represents, it seems to me that Staple Tye has been, and is being, well-served by Lorna Spenceley. In contrast, I now live in the Toddbrook ward which has three councillors, two of them Conservatives, all of whom I have not seen. I assume they might live close by but as they make no effort to contact my neighbours or myself who would know?

If the Conservatives are to be believed, I'm better off than the residents in Staple Tye simply because these councillors live closer to me. But my family members in Staple Tye have heard from Mrs Spenceley a lot more than I have from all of my three councillors put together, so I'd gladly swap the lot of them for someone like her.

I suggest these glasshouse Conservatives stop this petty vendetta and get their own councillors to do their job properly before throwing stones. Name and address supplied - Editor

Out of touch

SIR, Labour councillor Tony Durcan has been a rare sight since May when his party was obliterated from Essex County Council and reduced to third place in Harlow. But he has surfaced to launch an attack on me on last week's letters page.

He accuses me of using the Berecroft fire as a party political opportunity but it appears he is not only out of touch with council matters, he is out of touch with his party. The press release he is criticising was a joint release by MP Bill Rammell and me; we are working together to resolve this tragedy.

He then seizes the opportunity to embark on a rant covering parking, the town centre development and a former councillor. What that has got to do with the Berecroft fire I don't know, but I'll answer him.

He has missed the point on the parking issue at our neighbourhood shopping centres. This is intended to improve parking for shoppers with the first hour free, thereby increasing custom because long-term parking is discouraged.

As he knows, the town centre development is at present in the consultation phase and, of course, Harlow Renaissance will be speaking to any landowners affected by the final proposals and working with them.

He says he and his party have agreed to respect victims and refrain from making political points about a former councillor but in the same breath he joins the Liberal Democrats in doing just that.

In the same issue, Liberal democrat councillor John Strachan comments on the use I make of my council supplied mobile phone. As he will find out when he starts to get to grips with residents' issues in Staple Tye, this ward has more problems than any other so I make no excuse for the £1.60 per day I use in contacting them. If this was by post it would be just four letters a day.

I am pleased councillor Strachan is able to attend the Police Neighbourhood Action Panel meetings. Unfortunately these are held on the same nights as my council committee so I hope we will be able to work together on these non-party political issues.

The ward walkabouts he mentions were on days when I was representing residents at Essex County Council, an equally important venue for their voices to be heard.

All this has arisen from Liberal Democrat councillor Lorna Spenceley's choice to move to Ely nine months before the next election, when she will not be eligible to stand. I think this is a genuine political issue of whether Staple Tye will now receive proper representation.

Many think she should do the right thing and resign, as former Conservative councillor Sam Warren did, and allow residents the chance to elect another councillor. What can she possibly contribute from Ely in the next nine months?

Building work on wards 'will not increase infection risk'

HOSPITAL chiefs have defended a decision to keep wards open while workmen fit double glazing after concerns were raised about safety.

The Star was contacted by a relative worried that work being carried out at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital could spread hospital acquired infections such as MRSA and C-difficile.

"It appears that in the geriatric ward builders and workman removed windows and window frames and worked around seriously ill patients who were left in the ward while these building works continued," he said. But a PAH spokesman said that while work is being carried out areas where there are patients, it is going on in bays away from them.

"When the workmen finish in one bay, the patients are moved back and the next bay cleared to allow them to work," he said. "The patients are not being worked around directly and we have ensured all infection control procedures are in place."

He added: "Because the hospital is busy we can't close an entire ward. We are using this system because we thought it was the only way we can have the work completed while keeping the hospital functioning."

The programme of work is being carried out as part of a major investment project to replace single-glazed windows in the main hospital building.

Driver arrested after teenager dies in accident

A LORRY driver has been arrested after a young woman died in a three-vehicle accident near North Weald on Monday night.

Emergency services were called to the A414 at about 7.40pm after reports that a heavy goods vehicle had overturned on to a Ford Ka before colliding with a Skoda Fabia.

The 19-year-old driver of the Ka, from South Woodham Ferrers, was cut free from the wreckage and taken to Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital where she was pronounced dead.

The Skoda driver, a 64-year-old man from Chelmsford, was also taken to PAH where he received treatment for a wrist injury.

The Ka was travelling towards North Weald and the lorry heading in the direction of Chelmsford when the accident happened.

The 54-year-old lorry driver was arrested on suspicion of death by dangerous driving. Police are appealing for witnesses to contact the Chigwell Road Policing Unit on 0300 333444.

Dad's close encounter ... of the purr-ed kind

DAREDEVIL dad Wayne Everett came face-to-face with a 40-stone tiger during a visit to a wildlife park this week. . . and enjoyed every second.

Wayne's close encounter of the purr-ed kind was his prize for being crowned West Essex's Most Daring Dad in a competition run by Harlow's Harvey Centre.

Westfield, Harlow, fed meat to 11-year-old Siberian tiger Rocky, who has a reach of 9ft, and his partner, four-year-old Narnia, at the Paradise Wildlife Park in Broxbourne.

Wayne, a mobile DJ, was nominated by his three children, Sadie (17), Alan (14) and Emily (8). He impressed competition judges with his strength and determination which has seen him abseil down Church Langley water tower and gain a brown belt in karate.

He follows in the footsteps of Eric Rogers, winner of the 2008 title, who went on to raise hundreds of pounds for local charities Accuro and PACT Harlow by completing challenges such as walking on and juggling with fire, eating bugs, breaking breeze blocks and unicycling.

Wayne's chosen charity will be revealed during his induction which will take place shortly.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "Eric was a fantastic daring dad and I'm sure that he is now enjoying a well-earned rest after his challenges."

"However, I think Wayne has the strength and determination to follow Eric and I hope that together we can raise some much-needed money for charity."

"We received lots of entries for this year's competition. It's certainly growing in popularity and I can't wait to see Wayne in action."

Running total for Midnight Walk passes £100,000 mark

THE amount of sponsorship money received by St Clare Hospice following June's Midnight Walk has now topped the £100,000 mark.

Organisers of the event, which is supported by the Star, are confident they will reach their £120,000 target shortly and are hoping that figure will eventually approach the £136,000 that was pledged on the night of the walk.

Events fundraiser Tracy Meale said: "Our message at the moment is for anyone who has not yet paid in their sponsor money to keep collecting it and either bring it along to the hospice reception or send in a cheque."

"All money raised will go towards providing free of charge care to our patients and their families so it's very important we raise as much as possible."

Meanwhile, the organisers have now held the prize draws for the highest individual fundraiser and highest fundraising team.

Winner of the individual title was Helen Pratt, from Epping, who raised a staggering £1,235, a sum that was doubled by her employer which matched all her donations. Helen took part in the walk in memory of a friend's mother.

The 17-strong Theydon Girls group from Theydon Bois was highest fundraising team, donating £3,186 to the hospice so far.

● If you took part in The Midnight Walk and have yet to return your sponsorship money you can drop it in at the hospice reception in Hastingwood Road, Hastingwood, from 9am-5pm on weekdays. Alternatively, send a cheque made payable to St Clare Hospice to Midnight Walk Team, St Clare Hospice, Hastingwood Road, Hastingwood, Essex CM17 9JX.

Bolt from the blue

YOU have probably been told that you should never shelter under a tree during a thunderstorm . . . and here's the reason why.

Brad Gifford (38) was out walking his dogs when a storm started and so he stood under a tree to protect himself from the rain. But he was knocked unconscious when he was struck by lightning.

The 300,000-volt lightning bolt hit his right earlobe and travelled all the way through his body and came out through his left ankle.

Miraculously, Mr Gifford survived. "The only thing I remember is driving to the lake after work," he said. "I don't remember any bang or being hit. I'm just glad I wasn't holding the dogs' leads when I got hit as that would have been the end of them!"

The lightning completely shattered his eardrums and left him with burns all over his body. He was rushed to intensive care by air ambulance and has since made a full recovery, apart from feeling a bit bruised.

According to experts, the odds of being struck by lightning are one in three million.

Defoe to sue police for car arrest 'error'

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

PREMIERSHIP footballer Jermain Defoe is to sue Essex Police for wrongful arrest and detention at Harlow Police Station last month.

The Tottenham Hotspur striker was held in a cell for five hours on the morning of July 27 after officers pulled him over in near-by Loughton on suspicion of driving while disqualified.

Although Mr Defoe (26) had been banned from driving for six months after being convicted for a speeding offence earlier that month, he was not breaking the law as his disqualification had been suspended pending the outcome of an appeal.

The police force blamed their mistake on incorrect information

Football star's fury at wrongful arrest

FLASHBACK: How the Star reported Jermain Defoe's arrest held on the Police National Computer and apologised to the England hitman for his ordeal.

But this week Mr Defoe's solicitor, Nick Freeman, said his client would sue Essex Police and donate any damages awarded to charity.

"At the time the police were advised by Mr Defoe, and on no less than five occasions by my office, that he was not disqualified and that his detention was unlawful," he said.

"The problem arose as the consequence of an inputting error by Essex Police, which they have admitted and apologised for. This was compounded by their failure to accept our protestations that he was not disqualified.

"This claim is about principle and not about money. Any damages my client is awarded will be donated to charity."

A spokeswoman for Essex Police said the force was currently conducting an internal investigation to determine the source of the inputting error which led to Mr Defoe's arrest.

"Essex Police is liaising with Mr Defoe's legal team to ascertain the details of the claim," she added. "It would be inappropriate to comment any further at this time."

Fresh appeal after cyclist's fatal crash

POLICE have renewed their appeal for witnesses to an accident in which a cyclist suffered fatal injuries.

Douglas Davis (58) died after colliding with an articulated lorry on the A414 near Harlow at about 7.30pm last Tuesday.

He was heading towards the town on the eastbound carriageway when the accident happened about 200 metres from the roundabout at the junction with Fifth Avenue.

A passerby carried out first aid at the scene until paramedics arrived.

Mr Davis, who lived in Ware, was taken to the Princess Alexandra Hospital where he later died from his injuries.

PC Gary Byrne, of the Hertfordshire Police crash investigation team said: "We are trying to determine the circumstances of this tragic collision and I am appealing to anyone who saw what happened to call me on 0845 3300 222 as soon as possible.

"Our thoughts are with the man's family at this very sad time."

Fun day filled with lots of yo-ho-ho

KIDDI CARU: A pirate-themed fun day went with a bang when children dressed up and had their faces painted to raise cash for charity.

Toddlers at the Kiln Lane nursery in Harlow enjoyed an afternoon of fun activities including gold panning, treasure hunting, a balloon race and a lucky dip before taking part in a fancy dress competition.

The day was a huge success, raising more than £1,000 for St Clare Hospice.

Nursery manager Kelly Walker-Reid said: "This is the most we have ever raised in one event for a charity and myself and all of my staff are absolutely delighted.

"We would like to thank parents for supporting such a worthwhile charity."

Healthy lifestyle on nursery menu

LEAPFROG DAY NURSERY: Children at the nursery on the Greenway Business Park in Harlow were shown how staying healthy can be fun during a week-long project.

They enjoyed fun-themed days including food tasting sessions and playing games run in conjunction with the Government's Change4Life programme.

The nursery also gave parents Change4Life packs which included vegetable seeds for them to plant during the summer and a healthy eating recipe, specially created by celebrity chef Phil Vickery.

Library makeover is just the ticket

FAWBERT AND BARNARD: Pupils at the Old Harlow primary school brushed up on their decorating skills when they were invited to help smarten up their library.

Pupils were joined by staff from Pitney Bowes who helped out as part of the company's efforts to strengthen its community ties and charitable work.

A school spokesman said: "It was an absolutely wonderful opportunity for the school to benefit from the generosity of a local company to help us refurbish our library and paint an old classroom. "We would like to say a big thank you!"

A Lakeside gift card with £200 to spend

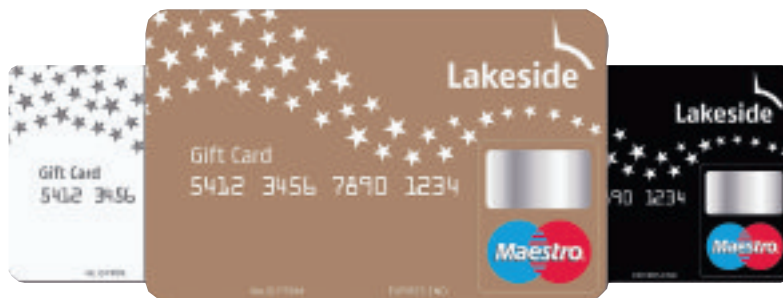

FANCY going on a shopping spree but you haven't got the cash to splash? Well this could be your lucky day.

The Star has teamed up with Lakeside Shopping Centre to offer our readers the chance to win one of three new-look Lakeside gift cards, each one loaded with £200 to spend in a range of 250 shops, cafes and restaurants as well as selected stores across the retail park next door.

The real beauty of the Lakeside gift card is that you can be truly confident in your choice of present. No more unwanted gifts, as Lakeside's gift card gives your loved ones the opportunity to choose exactly what they fancy.

So whether it's jewellery from Links of London, top fashion at House of Fraser, Hugo Boss and All Saints or great family meals out on The Boardwalk, Lakeside's gift card opens up a world of choice for the recipient!

The Lakeside gift card has a contemporary new look that comes in gold, white or black complete with a cascade of stars across the front. The cards come with a matching gold, white or black bordered envelope, a message card for you to personalise and a selection of customised stickers to seal the envelope for birthdays, weddings or anniversaries.

Available to purchase from Lakeside customer information desks, Lakeside's all new gift cards can be credited with any amount up to £1,000.

To stand a chance of winning one, all you have to do is answer the simple question in the entry form and send it to Lakeside Competition, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, Essex CM20 1JW. Alternatively, you can enter via our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk by clicking on 'Competitions' in the Lifestyle pages. In the 'Name of Competition' box enter Lakeside Gift Card.

For further information on the new gift cards, visit www.lakeside.uk.com.

Keep you pet in perfect health

WHETHER you're a seasoned animal carer or are thinking of getting a pet for the first time, make sure you do your research first and take the right steps to making the pet's life - and yours - as happy as possible.

From a small reptile to a horse, pets need looking after and we have a duty to ensure they're given the best care and protection. Looking after pets is one way of teaching children to be more responsible and as an adult a pet can be company and an excuse to get out for a walk every day.

The Animal Welfare Act states that anyone who is responsible for a pet also has the legal responsibility to meet what have been defined as the five basic welfare needs of their pets:

- A proper diet, which includes fresh water
- A suitable place to live
- The need to live with, or away from, other animals
- The ability to express normal behaviour for that animal
- Protection and treatment from illness and injury.

DOGS AND CATS

Dogs are loyal and intelligent pets which can be great fun but they take a lot of looking after and their upkeep can be expensive. You'll need to have plenty of space for them to run around and time to devote to looking after them - it's not fair to have a dog if you are going to leave it alone all day.

Dogs need to be properly trained and the RSPCA advises that they are microchipped for identity purposes, neutered and are taken to the vet regularly to have flea and worm treatments. This is on top of the daily care - feeding, walking and playing.

Cats on the other hand are more independent souls. They do still need company though and can't be left alone for any long periods of time, although they don't mind if you go to work and leave them the run of the house. They are very clean pets and can be good, affectionate companions, although some can be fond of scratching the furniture with their claws and may have anti-social tendencies where they lash out if they don't want to be handled.

Cats need the same as dogs: somewhere warm to sleep, places to roam (a large garden is ideal) food, drink and regular precautionary vet visits. It's advisable to have them neutered by the time they reach five months or so. Cats need the independence to come and go as they please so, if you have a cat, fit a cat flap so that they can be independent.

SMALL PETS

Hamsters, guinea pigs and gerbils are cute and fluffy pets but just because they are small it doesn't mean they need less looking after. They all have different needs too - a hamster cage isn't suitable for a gerbil, for example. Hamsters are territorial pets and like to live alone (except some dwarf versions which will live in pairs) and gerbils like to share their home with other gerbils.

Gerbils and hamsters like to burrow and so need a constant supply of clean sawdust in their cage to use. Hamsters like a nesting box to hide in, too, while gerbils can make do with some kitchen roll to make into a bed.

RABBITS

Rabbits are usually kept outside in a hutch - this needs to be big enough for them to hop around in, and they need an outdoor enclosure to give them the opportunity to burrow and have some exercise.

They need to be kept out of strong sunlight and cold wind, and preferably moved indoors when the weather gets too cold. Rabbits like companionship so always get two rabbits rather than one if you can and make time to pet your rabbit. Contrary to popular belief, it's not actually a good idea to put rabbits and guinea pigs together.

GUINEA PIGS

Guinea pigs are friendly pets and are easy to tame but they need a lot of regular attention. Long-haired guinea pigs need even more looking after. They need to be kept with other guinea pigs in a weatherproof hutch that gives them room to run around. They also need daily exercise, like rabbits, so an outdoor enclosure is ideal. Long haired guinea pigs have to be brushed every day.

Allen House, The Maltings, Sawbridgeworth, Herts

THE Will Group has been established for 20 years with a central office in Sawbridgeworth.

The company offers a range of legal services which includes the drafting of wills and probate administration.

Consultants are fully trained and take time to fully understand clients' needs and wishes. Will Group consultants visit clients in the privacy and comfort of their own home, during the day, evenings or weekends, which saves the inconvenience of visiting an office. However, clients are also welcome to call in to the Sawbridgeworth office if they prefer.

The Will Group understands the needs of the elderly and can, with carefully drafted wills and some simple trust planning, help protect their homes and assets.

The Will Group offers a 15 per cent discount for drafting wills for senior citizens and all NHS staff.

Funded training courses available through Response to Redundancy

Response to Redundancy is a new programme funded by the Learning and Skills Council and the European Social Fund designed to support people who have either been made redundant or have been told they will or are likely to be made redundant in the near future.

How can Response to Redundancy help you?

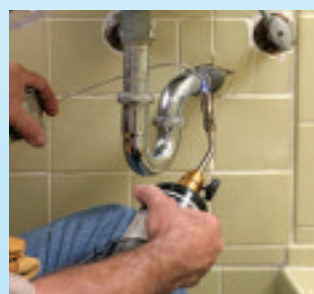

Response to Redundancy will:

- Help you identify those skills you have and those you need to give you the best possible chance of returning to employment.
- Deliver skills training to meet the skills gaps you feel are holding you back from getting a job.
- Help you increase or refresh your job finding skills, including personal effectiveness, your interview techniques and / or your CV writing skills.
- Support you through accredited training course into interim employment or self employment.
- Provide you with support and ways to boost your confidence.

- Plumbing
- Electrical (Part P)
- Gas Services Engineering
- Gas ACS (Gas safe Register)
- Tiling
- Carpentry
- Bricklaying
- Plastering
- Painting and Decorating

- Transport
- Security, CCTV
- Security Alarms Engineer
- Fork Lift driver
- Advice and Guidance
- Assessor / Internal Verifier Awards
- Teacher Training (PTTLS) (CTLLS)

- Management
- Team Leading
- Coaching and Mentoring
- Customer Service
- Call Centre Qualifications
- Numeracy
- Communication
- IT

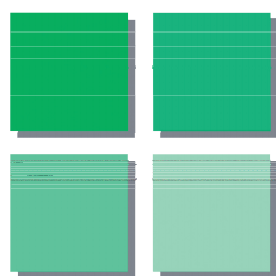

Our Training Centres are registered and nationally accredited by City and Guilds

How do I obtain more information?

If you are at risk of redundancy, have recently been made redundant or are unemployed then call 01992 765397 or Email your contact details to r2r@mpowertraining.com

Your stars with Patrick Arundell

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
This can be a great week for job hunting or professional prospects but you do need to avoid power battles, at home or in the world at large. Another by-product may be that you become more aware of the lifestyle you would like but if you force changes, they may come back on you. The art of listening can lessen tensions. Sharp words will do little good. Call me for more astral advice...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Some weeks can be relatively uneventful in astrology whilst others can absolutely rock with activity, and this can be one of those. With the New Moon still radiating energy in your friendship sector, this is an excellent time to connect with those who are special and meaningful in your life, but do take the initiative. At work, your confidence blossoms. Call me now for more advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
The Sun moves into the sunniest part of your solar horoscope and your mood should respond to this celestial Vitamin D. But there is more, because Mars is going to power up your communication sector. However, with Pluto lurking opposite, there may be one situation where staying as you are, simply is not an option. Will you dig your heels in? Call now for more news...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Mars moves into a generally positive position for you now, but it faces the powerful Pluto. You can stand up for yourself well with this planetary angle, but you also have to cut people some slack as far as their views are concerned. Yet both the Sun and Venus are helpful to you where staying as you are, opportunity can come through someone you know or a friend. Call now for more advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
The desire side of your nature will be turned to max, which can make it harder to be disciplined - especially about what you eat or drink. There may also be a temptation to be extravagant at home, for example buying rather than fitting. However, if you can stay within budget and increase the comfort factor you'll make the most of this. Call me for your financial forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Are you ever impulsive with money? Well, this side of now, but you are unlikely to welcome anyone interfering or criticising your decisions. Yet a "might is right attitude" could cause strife in a close tie. Brightly, travel prospects are looking particularly blessed, and if you journey this week, it may be linked to business or property. Call for your financial forecast...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
The last six weeks have seen Mars passing through one of the trickiest of your zodiac zones, now it emerges into the sunlight. If you've felt a psychological disadvantage or been up and down in your mood, now you can fire back into the situation which has someone may find your need to take some hard to bear and this, but challenge may be as good possible. Call now for more news and advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
If it feels to you that someone has been leaving you hanging and lacking consideration for your feelings, you can show a very much more assertive streak. Equally, this strength and determination could see you break free of a stale. You might need to take some responsibility for this, but a change can be as good as a rest. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Glamour planet Venus moves into Leo and is sure to give you even more lustre. Might you become more popular? Well, on the back of this change, very possibly - especially as Mercury speeds into a chatty, fun and bright minded zone. You can also find yourself wanting to refine your appearance with a new hairstyle or classy or fashionable clothing. Call now for more advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
If you are in business or you have a job which involves you weighing up opportunities, you can be in inspired form now. You have a nose for the truth in situations, and this will come in particularly handy Aquarius. Yet it is in love, where the most significant changes can unfold, something can reignite, get deeper or start afresh. An exciting week indeed! Call for your love scope in full...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23

RAINBOW

A PACKED programme of gripping drama, raucous comedy, gravity-defying dance and chart-topping live music awaits audiences at Harlow Playhouse as the theatre prepares for the start of its autumn/winter season.

Former Playhouse boss Phil Dale's new drama group Phoenix Theatre School get things off to a flying start on September 12 with a magical week-long production of swashbuckling musical Peter Pan, complete with breathtaking special effects and a stunning array of costumes.

Acclaimed singer-songwriter Richard Digance then kicks off the theatre's new Music on a Sunday programme, a series of early-evening concerts designed to provide a relaxing and uplifting start to the week which will also include performances from Kiki Dee, Ensemble 360 and The Syd Lawrence Orchestra throughout the season.

October is Black History Month and will

mossc@hertsessexnews.co.uk

be celebrated with a series of top shows, including a musical drama, Ella, based on the life of legendary jazz singer Ella Fitzgerald on October 11 and a live concert by chart-topping soul sensation Mica Paris on October 16.

Fans of acclaimed local drama group Global Productions can pick up a Prescription For Murder at The Playhouse Studio from October 8-10, while the drama continues on October 13 with Shakespeare 4 Kidz's thrilling musical adaptation of Shakespeare's Macbeth before international film star Hildegard Neil treads the boards in comedy drama Impossible Steps from October 23-24.

There's also plenty to laugh about this season, with deadpan American comic genius Rich Hall and his riotous redneck alter-ego Otis Lee Crenshaw hitting the theatre on October 2 and folically-challenged political satirist Andy Parsons, a regular panellist on BBC 2's Mock The Week, on October 15.

Dancing queens will delight at the flamboyant cabaret of The Lady Boys Of Bangkok on November 26, while the Russian State Ballet of Perm perform The Nutcracker on October 7 and hard-working Harlow dance school Hip Hop Pop present three shows.

For the kids, there's the enchanting tale of The Gruffalo from October 8-10 and JezO's Magic and Laughter Show on October 29, while Zippy, Bungle, George and Jeffrey reunite for Rainbow Live on December 5.

The season culminates with The Playhouse's traditional end-of-year pantomime, which this year will be a dazzling new production of classic fairytale Cinderella.

The show will star film and TV actress Sandra Dickinson as Fairy Godmother, CBBC presenter Ben Hanson as Buttons and Any Dream Will Do finalist Rob McVeigh as Prince Charming, with the title role going to an as-yet-undiscovered local actress.

For more information on any of The Playhouse's forthcoming shows or to book tickets, call the box office on (01279) 431945 or log on to www.playhouseharlow.com.

ARTS & CRAFTS: Two cardboard sculpture workshops taking place at the Museum of Harlow, in Muskhams Road, promise to be a real family affair as youngsters are being encouraged to take along their parents. The sessions on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons run from 1-4pm on both days and are being hosted by artist Nicola Burrell. Admission is free.

ARTS & CRAFTS: Join skilled artisan Martin Hazell in making large willow sculptures inspired by some of Harlow's best-known landmarks at the Museum of Harlow between Thursday and Saturday next week. Workshops will run from 10am-noon and 1pm-4pm on each day. Admission is free.

DANCE: Harlow Ballet Association returns to The Playhouse next Saturday (August 29) for a two-night run of its sizzling summer spectacular. Featuring a hotly-anticipated revival of Michael Branwell's Capriccio Italian set to the tuneful music of Tchaikovsky, the programme will also include the 22nd competition for the Anthony Osborne Choreographic Shield. Performances begin at 3pm and 7.30pm on Saturday and 3pm on Sunday and tickets cost £9 (£5 children) from (01279) 431945.

Life-size board game

INNOVATIVE artist Matt Cook invites you to Play Harlow! tomorrow (Friday) when he transforms The Stow into a life-size interactive game board as part of an ambitious new performance art project.

Teams of between two and five players will take part in games, activities and treasure hunts as they explore pre-determined routes through the neighbourhood designed to encourage participants to look at the town in a different way.

Matt will meanwhile take the role of game show host, wheeling out a dramatic kinetic sculpture which doubles up as a game board into the shopping precinct and inviting passers-by to get involved in side-games.

"I'm really excited about getting the first game under way," he said. "I think it will be something out of the ordinary that will help people rediscover Harlow and its fascinating layout, architecture and spaces."

To find out more about the project or to register your team of between two and five people, log on to www.playharlow.com.

INGLOURIOUS BASTERDS
certificate 18, time 2h32m

ONCE upon a time in Nazi-occupied France. So begins Quentin Tarantino's long-mooted war opus, a blood-soaked fairytale divided into five hefty chapters.

For most of the vengeful characters in Inglourious Basterds, there is no happy ever after. The body count is staggeringly high and almost nobody reaches the end credits unscathed.

However, Tarantino's distinctive vision does end on an upbeat note as it plays loose and fast with historical fact, particularly with regards to the Third Reich, and splices genres to dizzying effect.

The sharp mood swings – from the edge-of-seat nerves of the opening segment to the grisly humour which heralds the arrival of Brad Pitt's gung-ho avenger – take a little time to get used to. And Tarantino certainly takes his time, rather indulgently allowing his pulpy fiction to unspool over the course of two-and-a-half hours.

Thankfully, this is a return to form and is blessed with an Oscar-worthy supporting performance from Christoph Waltz as sadistic German officer Colonel Hans Landa who ignites the opening chapter as he interrogates a farmer suspected of harbouring Jewish families.

Dozens of men, women and children perish in the subsequent bloodbath but one young woman, Shosanna (Melanie Laurent), escapes and reinvents herself as a cinema owner in Paris where she plots her revenge.

Meanwhile, British Lieutenant Archie Hicox (Michael Fassbender) goes undercover to assassinate Hitler (Martin Wuttke) during a film premiere at Shosanna's cinema, aided by leading lady Bridget von Hammersmark (Diane Kruger).

Simultaneously, a gang of Jewish-American renegades led by Lieutenant Aldo Raine (Pitt) plots to kill the upper echelons of the Third Reich with a single attack. Operation Kino must succeed; the price of failure for the rest of Europe is unthinkable.

Inglourious Basterds is a stylish and blackly-humorous escapade only let down by the disjointed structure and Tarantino's reluctance to edit more judiciously.

The picture unfolds in fits and spurts, energised by Waltz's scintillating portrayal of evil and by the directorial brio, particularly in the explosive finale. Pitt is forgettable in a quirky supporting role, while Mike Myers enjoys a cameo as a doddering British general and Samuel L. Jackson adds an unnecessary voiceover.

The violence is graphic but used sparingly. If the writer-director had just scalped his own vision by at least 30 minutes, this might have been his masterpiece.

Rise to fame of a fashion icon

COCO BEFORE CHANEL
certificate 12A, time 1h50m

AT a time when summer blockbusters saturate the market, Coco Before Chanel is a welcome dose of Gallic chic chronicling the rise to fame of one of couture's most revered icons.

Anne Fontaine's biopic is impeccably coiffed and tailored, employing authentic models and jewellery from the Chanel Conservatory, augmented by Catherine Leterrier's costumes which mimic the fabrics and cuts of the original 1930s designs.

Audrey Tautou stars as the fashion designer from humble beginnings who became a cause celebre in pre-First World War France. This history lesson has sparkle and style in abundance, but emotions get lost in a swirl of silks and glittering accessories.

still showing

THE TIME TRAVELER'S WIFE Unfolding over the course of 35 years, The Time Traveler's Wife recounts a heartbreaking romance between two people, one of whom suffers from random fits of time travelling, who were always destined to meet and fall in love. Rachel McAdams and Eric Bana star in director Robert Schwentke's faithful adaptation of the bestselling book by Audrey Niffenegger.

BANDSLAM Jumping on the bandwagon to attract the pre-teen High School Musical crowd, this film charting the fortunes of a group of high-school misfits who seek glory in their local battle of the bands.

THE UGLY TRUTH A romantically challenged morning show producer (Katherine Heigl) is reluctantly embroiled in a series of outrageous tests by her chauvinistic correspondent (Gerard Butler) to prove his theories on relationships and help her find love.

GI JOE: THE RISE OF COBRA An elite military unit known as G.I. Joe, comprised of special operatives, operating out of The Pit, takes on an evil organisation led by a notorious arms dealer.

ALIENS IN THE ATTIC Adventure/comedy about kids on a family holiday who must fight off an attack by knee-high alien invaders with world-destroying ambitions while at the same time doing their best to keep their parents in the dark about the battle upstairs.

G-FORCE Light-hearted mix of live action and digital trickery which follows a team of guinea pigs recruited to covertly fight terrorism.

HARRY POTTER AND THE HALF-BLOOD PRINCE The boy wizard and his friends face their toughest test yet.

ICE AGE 3: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS Sid the sloth is taken to a dangerous subterranean kingdom after stealing dinosaur eggs and his loyal friends begin a rescue mission.

CORALINE There's no place like home as Coraline moves into the Pink Palace Apartments with her writer mother and father. To stave off boredom, Coraline explores her creaky, new home and uncovers a secret door leading from the living room to a parallel reality called Other World, where her Other Mother and Other Father provide her with all of the love, support and attention she craves.

HANNAH MONTANA – THE MOVIE Perky pop princess Miley Cyrus searches for love in this sentimental rites of passage drama with thigh-slapping musical sequences.

We take a look at what's on offer...

Peugeot's little big car

Peugeot's improved 207 is the latest in a long dynasty of successful small cars from the French marque. Steve Walker reports PEUGEOT has a strong track record when it comes to superminis. The 205 started it all off in 1983 and things got even better 15 years later with the 206, a car that was to sell over five million units worldwide.

Then, in 2006 the onus fell on the model we're looking at here, the 207, now improved with what Peugeot promise is a range of small but significant detail enhancements.

The design of this car is based around the family face that's now common across the Peugeot range, with the large grille and elongated front light clusters creating a front end that grins manically. The striking and sporty look, which was designed in-house by Peugeot's own stylists, has divided opinion but you can't accuse Peugeot of treading a conservative path.

Peugeot is offering a choice of five petrol and three diesel engines. The petrol models offered are a 1.4-litre 8-valve unit producing 75bhp, a 1.4-litre VTi variable valve timing unit with 95bhp, a 1.6-litre VTi giving out 120bhp, plus 150 and 175bhp 1.6-litre turbo options.

The diesel offerings are all second generation common-rail high-pressure direct injection powerplants and start with a 1.4-litre HDi producing 70bhp. This is followed by a 1.6-litre HDi 16-valve delivering 90bhp and a range-topping version of the same engine with a variable geometry turbocharger producing 110bhp.

The 207 is a hefty vehicle tipping the scales at nearly 1,300kg. In the 1.4-litre VTi car, the 0-60mph sprint takes 12.8s and the top speed is 115mph. The advantage of the Peugeot's mass is its composure and that all important big car feel out on the road.

'It's a substantial vehicle and a good option for buyers who need their supermini to perform a varied role'

It's an unhurried, comfortable car to drive that's great on longer journeys and takes to twisty back roads with relish thanks to its well-judged suspension. As long as you don't expect too much pace from the overworked smaller engines, the 5-speed gearbox is the only real drawback. The slack action isn't what you want in a nimble supermini and it lets the rest of the driving package down a bit.

The 207 represented a big improvement for Peugeot in terms of perceived quality and the latest versions aim to enhance that reputation. The materials in the cabin look and feel sturdy with no obvious flaws in terms of the way they all fit together. The lower specification models lack some of the fancy detailing you get as you ascend the range but the interior of a 207 is generally a pleasant place to be.

The latest cars benefit from revised instrument panels designed to give a more modern feel and some upgraded trim materials. Rear legroom is not as good as in some rivals, although there's compensation in the shape of a 310-litre boot capacity.

The styling themes that have gradually rolled out across the Peugeot model range are nothing if not distinctive and as with anything so wilfully out of the ordinary, the look of the 207 may not be to everyone's taste.

For the uninitiated, the 207's main distinguishing features are those elongated headlamps that stretch back from the nose into the front wings and the huge grinning grille below, its teeth braced by a dark central bumper. The current models have slight revisions to the front end the most obvious being the relocation of the fog lights, on models which have them, to independent slots cut into the bumper. They were previously mounted on the side of the grille.

Around the back, things are less extrovert but the overall look has real purpose about it. The LED rear light clusters could be the highlight and, from any angle, it's immediately obvious you're looking at a Peugeot 207.

Equipment levels? Well, the options range from the basic Urban model through S and Sport to the plush SE premium, the green Economique and the pacy GT and GTi models. Buyers can choose from 3-door and 5-door hatchbacks, SW estates and CC convertibles with an SW Outdoor model also offered that looks a bit like a 4x4.

Air-conditioning is available in two specifications, dual zone manual or automatic. In addition, the car can be equipped with a fragrance diffuser which is discreetly incorporated into the fascia panel and dispenses one of seven selectable fragrances to keep the interior of your 207 smelling sweetly.

This is a reassuringly high-tech car and even the lower-spec derivatives come well equipped. Recent additions to the range include remote controlled window closure, one-touch indicators and the Peugeot Connect entertainment system with a USB interface and Bluetooth compatibility.

'Overall, Peugeot's 207 supermini continues to combine striking looks, enhanced on the latest cars, with high levels of comfort and refinement'

Safety has been designed into the 207 from the outset. The car's front end contains two impact absorption structures borrowed from the 407 that distribute impact energy more efficiently in the event of a collision. Sill reinforcements and tubular bars in the doors aid structural rigidity. Numerous airbags are installed in the 207 and the front two 'adaptive' airbags have a dual-generator function that can vary their pressures according to the severity of the impact. Side airbags and curtain airbags also feature as standard or as an option, depending on the model level. All 207s are fitted with two 3-point Isofix mountings in the rear outer seats, each of which can accommodate a child's Isofix car safety seat.

Running a 207 is unlikely to cost the earth, thanks to its array of advanced engine technology. Impressively, all the diesel engines score better than 60mpg on the combined cycle. That includes the punchy 110bhp 1.6HDI. The two less powerful oil-burners also manage an admirable 117g/km of CO₂ emissions and there's the Economique model which gets over 74mpg. The 175bhp engine from the GTi is the least environmentally sound but 39mpg and 171g/km is hardly an ecological disaster.

Today's models feature a gear change indicator light which prompts the driver to change gear at the most efficient times. There are also a number of modifications that have been made to boost aerodynamic performance and reduce rolling resistance.

As a capable supermini all-rounder covering all the important bases, the Peugeot 207 looks good but with the smaller-engined cars you do find yourself wishing for a bit more power to make the most of what is a highly accomplished chassis. The gearbox and distinctive frontal styling notwithstanding, the Peugeot is hard to fault and it makes a great choice for buyers seeking a safe, well-equipped and affordable supermini. One of the more powerful diesel engines is probably the ideal pick.

Overall, Peugeot's 207 continues to combine striking looks with high levels of comfort and refinement. It's a substantial vehicle and a good option for buyers who need their supermini to perform a varied role.

THE September launch of the new registration plate is always one of the busiest times of the year for the automotive industry – the other being the launch of the other new registration plate in March.

Despite the trials and tribulations 2009 has brought, this September is shaping up just like all the others, with a vast array of stunning new models arriving in dealerships in time for the 59-plate change.

Assuming you haven't been living in a cave for 12 months, without a TV or any hint of a wireless internet connection, you'll be aware that car makers have been going through a bit of a rocky time along with the rest of the global economy.

Belts have been tightened across the industry and we've seen an intensifying of the focus on developing economical and environmentally-friendly vehicles.

What hasn't come about is any real slowdown in the string of new products being launched onto the market.

The notoriously fast pace set by the leading car manufacturers is undiminished and that's good news for consumers, who continue to benefit from the very latest in auto design and technology.

There are brand new models of all descriptions launching this September, many of them landmark cars in terms of what they bring to the market.

Then there's the added incentive of the Government's vehicle scrappage scheme, which presents car buyers with the opportunity to save £2,000 on a brand new car when they trade in a vehicle that's over 10 years old.

So it looks like a resounding thumbs-up for the scrappage scheme from local dealerships. The response from the public seems to have surprised even the staff at the dealerships themselves. There really are some superb offers available at present, making now a great time to pay your local new car showroom a visit and find out just how much you could save.

WITH 12 million Ford Fiestas already sold across the world, the latest model has a lot to live up to – and it's been carefully designed to succeed.

It's lighter, yet stiffer, greener and cheaper to run. It's also safer and better to drive even than the Mazda2 supermini, with which it shares a common platform.

This car represents Ford's future – in more ways than one.

So, climb in: what's the experience like?

Well, the first thing you'll probably notice is that there's nowhere to put your key, Ford having switched to one of those trendy (but rather pointless) 'Power' buttons which you press to start.

It's easier to get comfortable at the wheel than it was in the old car thanks to the improved seating and rake/reach wheel adjustment.

Peace of mind comes with the news that this is the first Ford small car to feature a driver's knee airbag, along with side airbags and optional curtain airbags.

Engine choices start with the familiar 60PS 1.25-litre and 90PS 1.4-litre Duratec petrol units. Also carried over is the old, frugal, if rather leisurely 68PS 1.4-litre TDCi. Above this level, things start to get a bit more interesting.

Ford has been doing a bit of work on the old model's 90PS 1.6-litre TDCi Duratorq engine with the result that you can now order it in Econetic form, in which it emits just 99g/km of CO₂, making it exempt from UK road fund duty. Other superminis look like lumbering 4x4s in comparison.

At the other end of the scale, Ford is keen to reassure driving enthusiasts that it hasn't forgotten them either, with the introduction of a 120PS 1.6-litre T-VCT petrol powerplant that makes 60mph in 9.9 seconds, used in plusher models that include the sporty Zetec-S.

Trim levels start with Studio, rising through Style and Style+ to the low running cost Econetic model. Zetec, as before, is expected to be popular, likely to account for around 35 per cent of sales, while sporty drivers get the 3-door-only Zetec-S, offered either with 1.6-litre TDCi diesel power or the 1.6-litre Duratec Ti-VCT petrol unit.

At the top of the range, Titanium variants are specced up like Christmas trees but retail at the kind of money which would buy you a significantly larger car. Less, as so often, is more.

Anyway, even entry-level Fiestas come with ABS, front, side and knee airbags, a CD player, central locking and electric mirrors. There are nice touches, too: we particularly liked the EasyFuel cap-less refuelling.

This Fiesta may not be the largest car in the supermini sector, but on just about every other main criterion it's either up there or class-leading, which makes a change from the relative mediocrity of the previous generation model.

It at last has cutting-edge looks and a decent cabin, plus the Econetic version shows other makers how green a compact yet practical runabout like this can be.

Overall, a pragmatic mix between tried and tested elements that are cost-effective and shiny new details that gel extremely well. Small car buyers simply can't ignore this car.

2 to 4 Years of Study, 15k plus of Debt, £20k starting salary maybe!

An Alternative to University or College

It's that nervous time of year for many young adults (and parents). Waiting for exam results and following that, deciding on the next step. You may be unsure whether you want to continue with further education and you really don't want to start your working life with debt. If you feel ready to get onto the career ladder as soon as possible, then a Pitman Diploma may be an attractive alternative.

At Pitman, you could study from our range of Diplomas potentially leading to a worthwhile career in Accounts, Law, Web Design or IT. Flexible learning and immediate course start dates means you can study around a full time job or complete a diploma within only a few months and have the core skills to begin your career within the year. And in four years, where might you be.....?

Pitman Training is Britain's longest established training company and one of the most highly respected in the business. Last year we trained over 50,000 people through our nationwide network of almost 100 centres. No one has helped more people gain valuable career skills than us.

Executive PA • Secretarial Diploma • Receptionist Diploma • Accounting Technician • Medical Secretary Diploma Business IT • Web Designer • Legal Secretary Diploma • Computer Keyboard Skills • ECDL • Microsoft Office Plus

With our experience and your willingness to learn, we'll build the skills and confidence you need to get exactly what you want.

Public Notices

Essex County Council

(FOOTPATH NO.72 (RIVER STORT NAVIGATION TOWPATH), HARLOW) (TEMPORARY PROHIBITION OF USE) ORDER 2009

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Essex County Council has made the

EFFECT OF THE ORDER: To temporarily close that length of Footpath
No.72 (River Stort Navigation Towpath) in the District of Harlow from its junction with Byway 127 Harlow at Pardon Mill, along the towpath westwards to it junction with footpath 75 Harlow at Eastwick Mead, a distance of approximately 1700 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 24 August 2009 for 4 months or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst improvement works are undertaken on the existing towpath.

The alternative route will be via:

Between Pardon Mill and Pardon Mead where footpath 72 Harlow meets footpath 74 and 181 Harlow; there will be a rolling diversion around the rolling points of closure by a signed route in the adjacent field.

Between Pardon Mead at the junction of footpath 72, 74 & 181 Harlow and Eastwick mead (junction of footpath 72 and 75); Along footpath 181 for 800 metres (east to west and vice versa), along part of footpath 75 (south to north and vice a versa) for approximately 290 metres.

The Order will come into effect on 24 August 2009 and may continue in force for 6 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 20 August 2009.

Maur to come as Robins triumph

RAICH Fraser showed no signs of tiredness as he scored all four goals to give Robins a convincing win over Mauritius Sports, writes DAVID RIMMER.

Fraser's wife Reanna gave birth to their first child, a boy called Haydn, three weeks ago and the player has had the odd sleepless night, but showed excellent touch and an eye for goal on Saturday.

The 27-year-old Robins utility player, from Harlow, said: "It was good to score four and I'm very pleased, particularly with my second goal.

Sawbridgeworth Tn 4, Mauritius Sp 1

Essex Senior Football League

"It's the kind of game we would have struggled with last year but we look good this year and had a good pre-season."

Andres Hurtado had squandered one opportunity before he put Mauritius ahead after 16 minutes.

He fired past Sawbo keeper Jamie Ring after Marlon Agard's pass had caught the home defence square.

Sawbo lacked invention and Mauritius looked sharper but the hosts equalised just before the break with Fraser heading in strongly at the near post from Rob Norris's corner.

Just after the interval, Dan Hudson's deep free-kick from the left saw Fraser nip in and rifle in a half volley to put the hosts 2-1 up.

Shortly after, Fraser forced Neil McDaid to tip round a shot at the near post.

Fraser was allowed too much space and headed home a Norris corner from the right on 65 minutes.

The scoring was rounded off on 89 minutes when a long ball from substitute Neil Pedley was latched onto by Fraser who shook off a defender before beating McDaid at the near post.

Sawbo boss Peter Wickham said: "We did well in the second half after we switched to 4-4-2. We pressed up on them well and Raich Fraser will be a handful for defences in this league. He was excellent and [debutant] Harry Sintim was good for us at the back."

Sawbo head into derby game in good heart

SAWBRIDGEWORTH will head into their home league match against rivals Bishop's Stortford in good heart after beating St Albans (114) by 31 runs.

Danny Wilson and Rob Sanders put on 33 for the first wicket on Saturday in their Home Counties League division two east match.

Sawbridgeworth reached lunch at 76-5.

Wilson was eventually caught for a hardworking 49 (from 117 balls) to leave the visitors on 106-7.

The tail showed some resistance with Ryan Cunningham making an invaluable 27 as Sawbo were bowled out for 145.

Hussain took 6-41.

In reply, St Albans wickets fell regularly.

Cunningham wrapped up the win and a brilliant spell by taking the last three wickets in 10 balls to return his best figures (6-33) of the season.

Spain gain for black belts

FIVE exhausted Harlow karate students fought through fierce Spanish heat in Valencia, Spain, to grade as black belt holders in Shito-Ryu Karate.

The five, all based at the Mark Hall Sportscentre, were Sadik Absar (13), Alex Williams (15), Mathew Gillick (17), James Davies (12) and Mozghon Jeddi (15). They have all been studying karate at the HankoRyu Academy for several years.

Each candidate faced a gruelling examination on all aspects of their knowledge of karate and had to compete with multiple opponents in a mammoth 30-minute kumite (fighting) session. Nariman Jeddi, chief instructor and founder of Hanko-Ryu Karate-Do said: "I must say they were all well trained to take such pressure beforehand."

"I was extremely impressed with their stamina and discipline at such a young age. I must also mention that it was mostly their own self-discipline and hard training that brought them all the success they deserved."

Joshua breaks AC record

JOSHUA Steel smashed the Harlow Athletic Club record for the U-13 boys shot put when he competed at the Eastern Young Athletes League meeting in Cambridge.

He improved his personal best (PB) by 1.05m when he threw 10.21m and in doing so broke the club record by 0.71m on Sunday.

Joshua is ranked 11th in the UK for the event. He also won the A-string 100m (13.3s) and the A high jump (1.35m).

Fine athleticism was also shown by Max Steele who cleared 1.65m in the U-15 boys A high jump (2nd) and leapt 5.32m (3rd) in the A long jump.

"It is fantastic to have two athletes at very different stages of their career do so well in one weekend and break two club records which were already of a high standard," said Harlow AC president and coach Nat Fisher.

Several other personal bests (PBs) were set by Harlow athletes at the meeting.

In the U-13 boys, Jordan Hook-Egharevba set a PB of 14.6s in the B 100m (3rd) and both Joe Bailey and Richard Walker set PBs of 3 mins 7.4 secs (4th, A) and 3:14.7 (3rd, B), respectively for the 800m.

U-15 Kirahn Blake set a PB of 1:35m in the B high jump (2nd) and 13.3s in the A 100m (6th).

In the U-13 girls, Eleanor Moss set PBs in the A 200m (35.6s, 5th) and A discus (13.67m, 4th), while her sister Isobel (U-15) set PBs for A 300m (52.7s, 5th) and the A 800m (2:42.1, 5th).

Harlow came fifth in the match.

Athletes help club to second

SEVEN local athletes helped Woodford Green & Essex Ladies to a fine second place in the final match of the Southern Junior League (U-20s) at the Lee Valley Stadium in Picketts Lock, North London.

Billy Falconer made another big step to his recovery from injury with a fine third place in the A high jump

(1.95m). Debutants Sophie Fuhr (15) and Lauren Freeman (15) both did well.

Sophie was 5th in the A 400m hurdles (70.7s), third in the B 400m (62.4s) and then ran 61.8s in helping the 4x400m relay team to 4th.

Lauren came in as a last minute replacement and completed the B 1,500m steeplechase in 6:44.9 for third. Daniel Yaxley was 7th in the A 2km steeplechase (6:58), while North Weald's Jess Docking (18) came 6th in the A 3km steeplechase (12mins 14s) and 4th in the A 1,500m steeplechase (6:14). Amy Larkin (16) threw 28.64m in a non-scoring hammer event.

Kathrine Foy (18) was 5th in the B 100m (13.0s), 5th in the B 200m (27.7s) and third in the A 400m (60.0s), before running a sub-60 second 400m time in the 4x400m relay, helping her club to fourth place.

In an open meeting at Watford, Jordan Harvey (14) from Harlow's St Mark's School, shattered his PBs for 100m and 200m with times of 12.26s and 24.87s respectively.

Lauren Freeman also beat her PB over 1,500m by 10 seconds (5:33).

Champions maintain unbeaten record

THERE will be no resting on their laurels by Harlow Town.

The Ash Tree Field side had clinched the Herts & Essex League division two championship and promotion with three matches to spare before last Saturday's home game to Langley.

This saw them maintain their unbeaten record as they won by 35 runs.

The hosts batted first and Shiraz Ali starred with the bat for Town, hitting 73.

He shared an opening partnership of 102 with Pat Yates (42).

It could have been different for Town as Langley put down two catches early on and were punished for these mistakes.

Extras (43) were also an important contributor to Harlow's score of 210-9.

With ball in hand, Town again proved why they have been so successful this year with plenty of accurate bowling.

Despite the lack of early wickets the Langley batsmen soon felt the pressure as the run rate required crept up.

Simon Rowell was the most successful home bowler as Langley falling 36 runs short of their target.

Harlow Town III lost by two wickets to close rivals Potter Street and Church Langley seconds (131-8) but the six points gained were enough for the former to clinch promotion from division seven with two matches to spare.

John Simpson scored 45 for Harlow while Shaun Alderson claimed 3-31 but it could not prevent Potter Street from winning.

Harlow Town II are battling for promotion from division four, but suffered a surprise six-wicket defeat at lowly Aspenden.

The visitors were bowled out for 97 and only Nick Teale offered any serious resistance, making 28 before the hosts knocked off the small target for the loss of four wickets (101-4).

Despite the defeat, Harlow remain top with two games to go.

In division three, Potter Street kept their slim hopes of promotion alive with a 21-run win over Willingale.

Street batted first and made 169-8 before Willingale were bowled out for 148.

Bill defeat so costly for Harlow

THE promotion dream has virtually died for Harlow but their skipper James Butler has not given up hope and still wants maximum effort from his troops.

Harlow lost at relegation-threatened Billericay on Saturday, having been in a good position.

Meanwhile, the top two teams Shenfield and Hadleigh & Thundersley both won. Harlow lie 36 points off a promotion spot with three games left.

Butler said: "It is still mathematically possible for us to go up – but it is a big ask. It's important we finish the season strong, so I won't be letting up on the lads until the last ball has been bowled at home to Buckhurst Hill on September 5."

Harlow fielded first at Billericay and quick bowler Jason McNally made an immediate impact.

He clean bowled Mike Smith (6) while second change bowler Zafir Nazir got rid of Stuart Hynes, leaving Billericay on 37-2.

Two more wickets fell but the real breakthrough came when McNally delivered a triple wicket maiden, ripping the heart from the Billericay middle order 67-7.

Unfortunately for Harlow, this was the high point as Gary Hynes joined opener Martin Guilbert and they batted patiently, putting on a superb 99.

Hynes was dismissed for 30 before Simon Baulcomb, recalled to the first team, had Guilbert stumped by James Butler for an excellent 117 as Billericay finished on 204. McNally took 6-45.

The Harlow reply started magnificently as Maruf Chowdhury and Lee Jessey blasted 95 for the first wicket before the former holed out at cover for an excellent 54.

Jessey (35) and Darren Green (2) followed and McNally (16) and Nick Butler (8) both went cheaply as Harlow's innings drifted with wickets falling regularly.

They had slipped to 173-9 when 14-year-old Conner Ramsay joined Luke Heskett and 32 were required.

The young duo defied the Billericay attack, taking the Marigolds men to within six runs of an unlikely victory before Heskett was bowled to thwart Harlow.

Butler added: "Credit should go to a resilient Billericay side, they dug in and got 50 more than I would have liked with the bat and after we got off to a flier they came back well with the ball."

In division one of the 2nd XI Essex championship, Harlow (64) slumped to a 167-run defeat against South Woodford (231-4) and in division one of the 3rd XI competition, Harlow (127) were thrashed by eight wickets against Hornchurch (128-2).

Lack of teams forces darts league to fold

A LACK of teams and players has forced the Harlow Industrial and Business Darts League to fold.

The League was formed back in the 1950s and in its hey-day had more than 40 teams and four divisions.

Only eight teams played in the League last season and three announced they were quitting prior to the start of the new campaign.

This axe does not affect the Harlow Premier Darts League. The Friday night league, which involves pubs and social club from across Harlow and Sawbridgeworth, is thriving.

A Harlow Industrial and Business Darts League spokesman Stuart Willey, a player for Colt Hatch Social Club, said: "It's with great regret and some degree of sadness that I have to inform you that the once great Harlow Industrial and Business Dart League has folded.

"I did not have a team for the new season and two new teams came along leaving a league of six – the bare minimum."

One of the new teams then pulled out, leaving only five teams. "With no further enquiries it became non-viable to run the league this year.

"As teams move on, it is unlikely that this league will resurrect in the current credit crunch times and this is truly a sad day for darts in general, but in particular darts in Harlow."

An EGM to finalise financial details and to decide what happens to any League assets was due to take place last night (Wednesday August 19) at UG Social Club.

Willey added: "Having played in this league for 15 years, I am really gutted this has happened, especially on the back of great feedback from all teams on how well the league has been run and was running."

Harlow ready to bloom

LEE Harron, the director of rugby at Harlow, is hoping the side can bloom in London division three north east next season.

Harron said: "I think it will be a challenging season for us. The return of Kain Claridge and Scott Romaine will make us more competitive in the forwards.

"We also have more depth in the front row. I also look forward to the return of James McFerran and Francis Brown from injury which will be a great help to us in the backs although they are both sometime off returning."

Harron was pleased with the performances of James Ephgrave, Rob Mackie and Luke Bowring in a trial match between the first and second teams last weekend. The first league game is at home to Romford on September 12, while Harlow host the Blackheath Academy this Saturday (2pm start).

Rivalry renewed

A RIVALRY dating back to the mid-19th century will be renewed when Sawbridgeworth Cricket Club take on Harlow in the Twenty/20 Challenge.

The match takes place at Sawbridgeworth's Town Fields ground on Tuesday (August 25, 5pm start).

The teams play in different leagues nowadays but the match is sure to be well attended with both sides anxious to win the derby bragging rights.

The match forms part of Sawbridgeworth's cricket week and could become an annual fixture.

Mays the force with you, Rocket

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday August 21).

THE heavily-backed MAYS ROCKET failed to justify his supporters' confidence here last week and connections will be eager to get their money back quickly.

Conveniently, they will only have to wait until the last race this Friday night where he probably only needs a clear run to land the spoils.

LODE BLUE BELL has had a mixed time of things since arriving at Harlow. She started her career in impressive style, winning her first two races but has failed to progress subsequently.

Being able to poach an early lead is probably what she requires and the 8.30pm contest looks ideal. She is surrounded by slow starters and can blast clear from the traps.

Other selections (Friday August 21):-

7.30pm Special Portrait; 7.45pm Marfur Daley; 8pm Koala Barns; 8.15pm Puff Doggy; 8.30pm Lode Blue Bell; 8.45pm Mingers Minor; 9pm Ontheriver King; 9.15pm Lukes Barney; 9.30pm Baggies Boy; 9.45pm Dainty Benny; 10pm Donkey; 10.15pm Mays Rocket.

Osagie secures victory in UK final

It was an important meeting as only the top eight in the UK in each track and field event got to compete in it.

The 21-year-old, from Northbrooks, told Star Sport: "It was really good and it could not have gone much better as I got a personal best as well. I had run my previous fastest time (1:47.34) two years ago.

SUCCESS: Andrew Osagie

(Wednesday).

The race is important as it could clinch the Harlow Athletic Club member a place in the 800m at the Aviva Great Britain international meeting at Gateshead on Monday August 31.

If Osagie qualifies for this top drawer competition he will be up against quality international runners including the likes of Great Britain's Beijing Olympics 800m semi-finalist Michael Rimmer and Wales international Joe Thomas. Three Great Britain internationals are expected to compete in this race.

If he can excel here it will really put his name on the map. "It would be good to get in this race. International runners will be competing who have run times such as 1:43 this year," Osagie explained.

It's Hyde and seek!

A MAGNIFICENT effort by veteran Stort Valley Angling Society member Bill Beehan saw him lift the Hyde Harvey Cup in the Harlow club's latest coach outing to Roswell Pits, near Ely in Cambridgeshire.

The worm and red maggot tempted 68lbs 15ozs of bream into Beehan's net, exactly 30lbs ahead of his nearest rival Andy Turnbull.

Danny Cruse filled third spot with just under 30lbs.

Top junior was Ben Heywood and the total weight for the 22 members present was a whopping 289lbs 3ozs.

Hawks back with a bang

A SUMMER of turmoil was quickly forgotten as Harlow Town's new-look side dispatched Great Woking Rovers to give plenty of hope for the division one north campaign.

James Edgerley's terrific hat-trick ensured new boss Anthony Anstead got a win in his first competitive match in charge.

Midfielder Edgerley was one of 11 players making their first competitive starts for the Hawks on Saturday.

Striker Julian Edwards and midfielders Jason Mason, Ola Akinnawo and Lorenz Ferrari also shone, as did keeper Jamie Waite.

The club, massively in debt, faced a winding-up order in July, but if Anstead's side can build on this result and gates can improve – only 230 turned up from a Harlow population of 80,000 – then the future might not be so grim.

After Joe Clemo cleared off the line with barely three minutes on the clock, Harlow responded and played some good, attacking football.

Despite this, Great Woking took the lead against the run of play on 15 minutes. A mix-up at the back allowed Dan Williams to beat both new skipper Marc Clarey and left-back Gary Edwards to head the ball over Waite.

Rovers were denied a second when Waite superbly saved from Rovers striker Hughie Ashman, who was clean through.

Harlow levelled on 31 minutes when Edgerley fired a 20-yard shot into the top right corner after a nice move involving Ferrari, Eric Manangu and Julian Edwards.

The hosts went in front three minutes before the break. Edgerley was fouled but got up and delivered a beautiful free-kick into the top right corner of Richard McKinney's net.

Rovers were level a minute after the re-start. Ben Hudson nodded over Waite from close range after sloppy Hawks defending from a corner.

The hosts refused to give up though and made it 3-2 on 55 minutes. Clarey hammered a low drive into the left corner from eight yards.

Edgerley completed his hat-trick and the scoring on 68 minutes after a mazy run by Akinnawo accrued a free-kick, one of numerous industrial challenges by the Rovers defence.

Edgerley hit this with even more power than they first as it ripped into the bottom left corner.

The game was held up for five minutes close to the end when Hawks centre-half Liam Thomas was caught and he had to be stretched off with a leg injury.

Harlow played out the remaining time – including TEN minutes of injury-time – with only 10 men as they had already used all three subs.

However, Rovers offered little threat there after.

Hawks boss Anstead said: "We showed character to come from behind and it was great to score four goals. James Edgerley did very well but we conceded two very soft goals which were the type of errors you make in pre-season."

HARLOW TN: Waite, Clemo, Clarey, Thomas, G. Edwards, Akinnawo (Simpson 80), Edgerley, Manangu (Doolan 58), J. Edwards, Mason, Ferrari (Dobson 55). Subs not used: Bekles, Osei. Yellow cards: Clemo (foul). Att: 230.

Swifts' short, sharp shock

On 49 minutes, Hawks keeper James Waite made a brilliant save to keep out a shot to his left and just after the hour mark the tireless Akinnawo chased down a clearance by Heybridge keeper Ollie Morris-Sanders which went agonisingly past a post.

Anstead is looking for four points from his side's next two games against Potters Bar this Saturday and at home to Wingate & Finchley on Tuesday.

"I have broken the season down into groups of four games. Not getting a point at Heybridge makes that more difficult but we can still get seven from the first four," said the Harlow boss.

Two trialists were set to play last night (Wednesday) in the Hawks reserve game against Potters Bar Town in the Capital League eastern division.

Meanwhile, defender Michael Moore was hoping to test his hamstring injury and striker Tobi Ositola needs match fitness.

Congolese midfielder Herve Malimabue, who played in the French football league last season, is awaiting international clearance.

"There is a language problem but he gives a young side strength and can also play at left-back."

HARLOW TN: Waite, Clemo, Clarey, Bekles, G. Edwards, Akinnawo, Edgerley, Doolan (Manangu 45), J. Edwards, Mason (Simpson 75), Ferrari (Osie 52). Subs not used: Moore, Dobson.

Sexy physio's a storm in a C cup

Goalkeeper Jamie Waite, a Thailand international, made a couple of excellent saves.

The main worry for Anstead must be at the back. The Hawks conceded two sloppy goals against Rovers and desperately need a dominant centre-half.

Harlow were skipped by Marc Clarey but he and defensive partner Liam Thomas were beaten in the air far too often for Anstead's liking.

However, the hesitancy in defence could be put down to the fact that this was the first competitive game for the whole team and things should improve during the course of the season once the players get to know each other better.

In all, Harlow gave competitive debuts to 13 players. The only player left from last season was striker Daryl Doolan and he was mainly a reserve under former boss Glen Alzapiedi.

Of course while Saturday's performance was encouraging, if Harlow do too well then they could lose their young stars to clubs that will be able to pay them more. This is something that Anstead is all too aware of.

Upset as Harlow defeat leaders

TABLE-topping Gosling were defeated as Harlow caused an upset in division three of the Herts Squash League.

The Welwyn Garden City-based leaders suffered a 2-1 reverse at the Sportcentre.

First string Ian Gould completely overwhelmed his opponent to record a 15-9, 15-8, 15-9 win.

Second string Dan Collison started well, winning the first set 15-10, lost the second 5-15. However, he came back to win the third 15-8. Collison then tired and lost the next two 10-15, 7-15.

Third string Vinh Tram, stepping in at the last minute due to holidays and injuries, produced a superb performance to record a straight sets 15-9, 15-12, 15-10 win and ensure victory for the team.

Harlow's second team were at home to Letchworth in division four.

Their second-placed opponents triumphed comfortably 0-3.

First string Vinh Tram started well, winning the first set 15-11 but then faded away to lose the next three 13-15, 9-15, 9-15.

Second string Peter Izatt could not keep pace with his opponent and lost 11-15, 9-15, 10-15.

Third string Rob Coghlan looked set to prevent the clean sweep when he won the first two sets 15-10, 15-13.

However, he then lost the next two 12-15, 11-15 and lost the decisive final set 4-15.

Sexy Hawks physio's a storm in a C cup

NEW Hawks boss Anthony Anstead has certainly made some shrewd signings but the acquisition of a sexy physio certainly raised a few eyebrows during Saturday's 4-2 Ryman division one north win over Great Wakering Rovers.

Already dubbed 'Paris Hilton' by the Harlow Town fans, Josephine Edwards, pictured right, was therapist on Saturday for the Barrows Farm side.

The attractive physio – who wore Posh Spice-style sunglasses for the entire match – sauntered onto the pitch on numerous occasions and was a delight to behold.

One Hawks fan said: "I'm all for equal opportunities but my only fear is that matches could run into several hours as players are suddenly are struck down by mystery ailments!"

Anstead, whose energies have been mainly concentrated on getting a first team squad together at short notice, said that nothing has been finalised in terms of the appointment of a permanent physio.

He said: "The people who have come in have been very helpful."

On the pitch, Harlow played with passion and pace against Great Wakering and gave the fans some optimism for the campaign.

The midfield was tremendous. Wingers Lorenz Ferrari and Ola Akinnawo will give full-backs nightmares this season, while ex-Bishop's Stortford midfielder Jason Mason also shone.

His central midfield partner – hat-trick hero James Edgerley – took all the plaudits.

His eye for goal and superb free-kicks will be a dangerous weapon for Harlow this term.

Up front, Julian Edwards provided a physical threat.

Swifts' short, sharp shock

BEATEN:
Hawks boss Anthony Anstead

Late goal stuns brave Hawks

IT was agonising for the Hawks as they slipped to defeat in their first away league game under new boss Anthony Anstead.

Harlow Town were on the verge of clinching a point at Heybridge Swifts when the hosts were awarded a free-kick on 89 minutes.

Reece Morgan headed home from the set-piece to give the hosts the spoils on Tuesday night.

The foul was committed by Hawks defender Gary Edwards just outside the box and the referee initially awarded a penalty before his assistant pointed out the offence had taken place outside the box.

Anstead had no qualms about the free-kick but was frustrated with Harlow's pre-match build-up. The club will be fined for arriving late.

He said: "We got held up in traffic and some players went direct. We were rushed in our warm up and the ground clock was five minutes late. The ref said we would be fined."

"We will be making sure we get to Potters Bar [on Saturday] very early."

Anstead was also unhappy with some refereeing decisions on the pitch. "I had no problems with the free-kick. It was a fair and square goal."

"Ola [Akinnawo] jumped a tackle but then got a yellow card for not being back far enough from a corner!"

On a broader note, Anstead was more worried with Harlow's display which lacked the necessary attacking edge and crispness, a stark contrast to Saturday's 4-2 victory over Great Wakering Rovers.

"Their keeper only had two shots to save and we did not create enough," he said.

"We lacked zip. We have in Jason Mason one of the best midfielders in the league but we were not giving him options. We need to have at least three options."

Harlow almost scored after a minute when Mason fired just over before Stephen Bourne did likewise at the other end on 22 minutes.

Osagie secures victory in UK final

ANDREW Osagie was thrilled after winning the 800m and clocking a personal best time of 1 minute, 47.15 seconds at the prestigious UK Athletics Challenge final in Wales.

The Harlow athlete ran a strong, tactical race and overtook GB rival Darren St Clair with 60 metres to go. St Clair finished in 1:47.37.

Osagie's time beat his previous season best of 1:47.15.
